

Madison County 2023 Resource Guide

This Resource Guide was created in partnership with Madison County agencies and organizations to enhance public access to information about human service resources available to Madison County residents.

The inclusion of any organization, agency or service in this Resource Guide does not imply or constitute an endorsement or recommendation, nor does exclusion imply disapproval.

Where dates and /or hours of operation are listed, the recommendation is to call the organization in advance to confirm that the information is still valid. Services and resources will be reviewed and updated as needed. Revised print date April 2023.

Neighbors in Need

Neighbors in Need is open on Tuesday's from 1 PM to 3 PM.

Marshal Presbyterian Church

165 S Main St

Marshall, NC 28753

Phone: 828-649-3622 option 2

To be eligible for assistance, clients must be residents of Madison County, NC. For Heating Assistance, the Neighbors in Need program begins on the first Tuesday in December. The one-time heating assistance payment per household is for a 12-month period. Currently, the 2021/2022 stipend is not yet available. There is assistance for electric heat, heating oil, propane, kerosene, and firewood. Clients can sign up for assistance in advance if they believe they will need help in the coming winter. After the client's eligibility is determined, they will receive a postcard in the mail with the amount of assistance for which they are eligible. Clients can apply in person at 165 South Main Street in Marshall, NC starting now. If a client urgently needs assistance, they can bring their heating bill statement to Neighbors in Need at the above address to apply. Clients 60 years of age or older must first apply to DSS for assistance. If they still need heating assistance after applying to DSS, they can then apply to Neighbors in Need. Assistance for non-heating electric bills, as well as food, is available year-round. For non-heating electrical bills, the stipend is $100.00 for an individual and $200.00 for a household.
